

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

SOCIETY and WOMAN'S WORK

Mrs. Sarah Jane Ploch was hostess to the members of the C. L. C. Club, Friday afternoon, at her home on Silver street.

After a short business session, a "bean hunt" was enjoyed by the guests, in which Mrs. S. J. Ploch won the first prize. Mrs. C. Landon was awarded the consolation prize. After the contest, a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in embroidery work, music and social chat.

The only guests aside from the club members were Mrs. Laura Stoll and Miss Rhoda Luellen.

Mrs. Willis Bowers, of North Grand avenue, will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Yesterday's noteworthy society event was the delightful party at the Hamilton home on East Center street, when Miss Marjorie Hamilton entertained a party of young lady friends at a matinee whist party. Thirty guests, responding to invitation, assembling at 2:30, were received by Miss Hamilton and Mrs. Ernest McGuire.

In the season at whist, Mrs. Charles Stedman, of Delaware, a relative of the hostess won the first honors. A luncheon of exceptionally dainty appointments commanded attention at five o'clock; pink carnations were the favors. Ferns and carnations following the color scheme of red and green, created some very pretty decorative effects.

Aside from Mrs. Charles Stedman, of Delaware, the out-of-town guests were Miss Mae Blumenthal, of Pine Bluff, Arkansas; Miss Rae Cohen, of Columbus; Miss Marie Lowenstein, of Columbus and Miss Cohen, of Fostoria.

Honoring Miss Helen Rosenberg, who is home from college on a vacation, Miss Roma Hofstetter, of East Center street, pleasantly entertained with a Dutch luncheon Friday evening. A delicious luncheon was the principal feature of the occasion. Cards and music were social diversions.

Aside from the honored guest, those present were Miss Bonnie Pinard, Miss Esther Neeley, Miss Mildred Dombagh, Miss Margaret Dickerson; Miss Hilda Garberson.

Mr. Stanley Collins and Miss Alphia Kerr of north of the city were quietly married at the Epworth M. E. church parsonage at 9 o'clock this morning by Rev. D. H. Butler. The young couple were unaccompanied. Mr. and Mrs. Collins will reside on the Reber farm north of the city.

USE OF BLOTTING PAPER.

Method of Cleaning Machinery in German Shops.

The use of blotting paper for cleaning machinery is a comparatively new idea—an idea that has been tried successfully in German workshops. Tow, woolen refuse sponge, cloths and jute waste are the materials usually employed for the cleaning of machines and parts of engines that are soiled by dirt and lubricating substances.

The better varieties of cotton waste are very good for scouring purposes, but the cheaper grades are charged with dust, and in using them a sponge cloth, specially manufactured for the purpose, has to be resorted to.

In employing blotting paper for scouring purposes the use of cotton waste is decreased, and the sponge cloths are entirely dispensed with. On an average a German workman receives under the former system 250 grams of cotton waste, one new sponge cloth, and one or two renovated ones each week. Now he is supplied with 150 grams of cotton waste, and about eight or ten sheets of blotting paper, at a cost of two and a half cents, or one-third the cost of the cotton waste.

The paper is not only cheaper, but it does not soil the machinery with fibers and dust, as do the woolen refuse and the sponge cloths. It is also less combustible than other cleaning materials, and if it should be caught in the machinery while engines in motion are being cleaned, it tears easily, and the workmen run no risk of having their hands drawn into the machinery.

Rather Old Cal.

Some years ago the writer attended a revival meeting held in Eagle Hall Concord, under the direction of Elder John Hook, of blessed memory. He had as an assistant Elder Martin Van Buren Lutz, a converted gambler and drunkard.

Elder Lutz was of an extremely nervous disposition and much in earnest in his appeals to sinners to quit sinning, as he had been a chief of sinners and knew how it was himself. At times he would get so excited that he would jump up and down, like a mad boy, on the platform.

He was preaching a sermon on "The Parable of the Prodigal Son." When he came to the account of the killing of the fatted calf, he endeavored to heighten the interest of his hearers by the following remark:

"Not a calf, my brethren, but THE calf, the old, familiar calf that had been for years and years in the family." The prodigal son must have had some tough vet set before him.—Boston Herald.

Her Mudguards.

She was a schoolgirl of the age that is wrongly called awkward, and should be called natural. She had joined a hockey club, and was arrayed for the first time in the school hockey costume. An admiring luncheon party stood around and inspected her before starting for the fray. There were brothers, uncles, friends, and they said the right thing about the serge blouse and the colored skirt and the Tam o' Shanter. But this was not enough for the heroine of the moment. Emboldened by success, she made a duck at the bottom hem of her skirt, which though short was not short enough for her purpose. "You have not seen the best thing of all," she said, proudly; "look at my mudguards!"

As to Dreams.

"We all dream dreams," said Mr.

Billtops, "and I suppose if we could look into our neighbor's heart, be that neighbor man or woman, we might find there cherished aspirations and fancies fantastically at variance with the said neighbor's conventional demeanor and orderly life."

"A man I know, energetic, capable, effective, successful and in all his life notably systematic, tells me that if he could do as he would like to do he would be a tramp. No less a person than Mrs. Billtops, paragon of domesticity and devotion, confides to me that she always wanted to be an actress. Let us be grateful that actually she chose to play her charming part on the Billtop household stage."

Nature's Complexion Bath.

"Do you know what makes the complexion of the English women so beautiful?" asked the woman who has been there. "They deliberately walk about in the rain. They don't carry umbrellas. They wear raincoats cover their hair with the hoods of them, and go ahead. I have seen them walk with their faces upturned to catch the misty rain that is always more or less in the English atmosphere. It is pretty tough on the little corkscrew curls they make around their faces with the curling iron; but it's just about the best thing in the world for the complexion."

Bismarck's Love of Authority.

At nine p. m. we took tea with the king. I was seated opposite him, when a footman came and whispered in my ear that Bismarck desired to see me. Great embarrassment! Pucker having told me I might leave the table, I did so. The king inquired what was the matter, and permitted me to go. Bismarck had nothing of particular importance to tell me, and I suspect that he only wanted to show that he had the right to send for his employees even when they were with the king.—From the Hatzfeldt Letters.

West Virginia Problem.

A knotty legal question has come to the surface in Webster county, says the Morgantown Chronicle. One man stole another man's skunk. It was a wild animal which was privileged to roam where it pleased, and it recognized no owner, lord or pastor. But in the course of its perambulations it entered upon the land of a man named Zieffoos, who set up a claim to the visitor because it was on his land, and when a predatory mountaineer came down like a wolf on the fold and carried away the dead carcass of the animal Mr. Zieffoos set up a claim that it was his property. Was it?

"PIANOS"

There's nothing that helps so much to beautify and make a home what it should be as the presence of a really high grade and artistic piano. Neither is there anything that so much aids the hostess to entertain her guests and make things pleasant as really fine musical instruments.

Be Careful, However, in Your Selection of a Piano

There are a few Pianos, the names of which are household words, that stand for the substantial backbone of the whole Piano industry. The "Sterling" is among these. The success of the Sterling Company during its 47 years has been phenomenal, based on merit, and its place in the world among real music lovers is permanent. An investment in a Sterling is an assurance for your musical future and a valuable asset should you ever want to sell.

We are also representatives for the "Packard, Had-dorff, Vough, Hazlet on Bros., Sheaffer Schiller, Brew-ster, Mendelssohn, Shoninger, Clarendon, Clinton, Sterling Player Pianos, Playola Player Pianos.

Our liberal terms are within the reach of all. Fine new pianos from $175 to $600.00. A few slightly used pianos at great bargains. Fine tuning and repairing.
